

Where to Get the Word Out

- Any and every public space: sidewalks in front of businesses, libraries, post offices, etc.
- Farmers markets
- Condos
- Festivals
- Post info in health food stores, on community boards, coffee houses.
- Send flyers and info to all physicians and practitioners in the holistic health community
- Parades
- Comerica Park after the ball game. Carol, who works at the park, plans to canvass people when her shift ends somewhere around the 9th inning.
- You can go door-to-door, but you will talk to more people if you go to a high-traffic area. (Condos are good, though, because everyone is closely spaced.)

Sept 8–13. Flyer Aric Nesbitt’s District in Van Buren County! Nesbitt is the Chair of the House Energy Committee. We especially need his constituents to call, because Nesbitt is against us right now. Eight to ten people going out there would be idea. Meet up with Jeanine Deal and David Lonier. They are both incredible smart meter activists. David’s plan is to arrive in Paw Paw on Tuesday 9/8/15 and spend a few days in Van Buren County handing out flyers. He might stay even longer for the Paw Paw Wine & Harvest Festival and for the fireworks on Sept 11 in downtown Paw Paw. Jeanine will be in Paw Paw on Sept 8 for 4–6 p.m. Consumers Energy customers, we especially need you! You can email David at davidlonier@gmail.com or call him at 248-373-9111. You can reach Jeanine at j.s.deal@att.net or 269-979-3019.

Michigan Festivals in Next Two Weeks

Detroit Jazz Festival this weekend (5th–7th) at Hart Plaza in downtown Detroit.

The Arts And Apples Art Festival is in the Rochester Municipal Park next weekend (weekend of 9/11). It is a very large festival and attended by many thousands of people from all around the state. It would be a very significant opportunity to get the word out.

You are permitted by law to canvass people in any outdoor public space—this means any space “owned” by the public, such as sidewalks, plazas, and parks. If you wish to canvass in the sidewalk area of a grocery store or mall, you should ask for the business’s permission.
